Cummins CoE Faculty are now Sanskrit literate: 10 Days FDP

Cummins College of Engineering for Women, Hingna, Nagpur organized ten days faculty development programme for its faculty recently. The experts from industries and education conducted interactive sessions on "Teaching and Learning methods", "Research Methodologies" & "Sanskrit Language Conversation. The inauguration lecture was delivered by Dr. C. S. Warnekar who enlightened the faculties with the knowledge of Research Methodologies and Sanskrit Language. He demonstrated the highly scientific ALGORITHMS that are present in Hindu Mythology/Sanskrit Shlokas, with appropriate examples. Dr. Bhaskar Patel guided the faculty members about how to perform their duties positively in the all negative surrounding environment. Mr. Milind Apte stressed on mindset of girl students and provided tips which will be very useful to the faculties while dealing with girl students. Dr. Kalyani Kale conducted classes on Sanskrit Language and Conversational Training. She explained importance of the ancient SANSKRIT language regarding its effectiveness to improve clarity in pronunciation. The valedictory function was presided by Prof. Tadas, DTE-RO, GP, Nagpur. In his address he discussed about need to understand outlook of modern students. He also suggested certain techniques which would be helpful while of dealing with students. The faculties of Cummins CoE were highly benefited with these ten days interactive sessions. The programme was coordinated by Prof. Ajay Tinguria, HoD, ETC dept. under the guidance of Dr. B. P. Joshi, Principal, Cummins CoE.
